

CALCULATING WITH AUSTRALIAN NOTES AND COINS

Name that coin or note

- I am worth less than $20.
- A new version of me was released in 2016.
- I have a picture of Queen Elizabeth on one side and Parliament House on the other side.
- I am purple.

I am $5

- I am worth more than $2, but less than $50.
- A new version of me was released in 2017.
- I have portraits of two poets: AB 'Banjo' Paterson on one side and Dame Mary Gilmore on the other.
- I am blue.

I am $10

- I am worth less than $100, but more than $5.
- I was first issued in 1966, but I was paper then.
- Two people are featured on me: Mary Reiby and Reverend John Flynn.
- I am orange.

I am $20

- There is only one note worth more than me.
- I was first released in 1973, but I was paper until 1995.
- I have two important Australians on me: David Unaipon and Edith Cowan.
- I am mustard yellow.

I am $50

- I am a note.
- I am the youngest banknote. I was first released in 1984.
- I have a picture of Dame Nellie Melba on one side and Sir John Monash on the other.
- I am green.

I am $100

CALCULATING WITH AUSTRALIAN NOTES AND COINS

- I am worth less than $1.
- I am silver.
- I have a picture of a lyrebird on my tails side.
- Five of me makes fifty cents.

I am ten cents

- I am a circle shape.
- I am the second biggest silver coin.
- You will find a picture of a platypus on my tails side.
- I have Queen Elizabeth II on the heads side.

I am twenty cents

- I am the biggest coin.
- I used to be a circle, but I changed shape in 1969 because people got me mixed up with the twenty cent coin.
- My tails side has the Australian Coat of Arms.
- Two of me is the same as one dollar.

I am fifty cents

- I am a coin.
- I am worth more than twenty cents, but less than two dollars.
- I have lots of kangaroos on my tails side.
- I am gold.

I am $1

- I am a coin.
- I am the youngest coin. I was first released in 1988.
- I have a picture of an Indigenous man on my tails side.
- I am gold.

I am $2

- I am a coin.
- I am silver.
- I have a picture of an echidna on one side and Queen Elizabeth II on the other.
- I am the smallest coin.

I am five cents