

DEMOCRACY DOWN UNDER

Design a park – direct democracy

You have been asked to design a new park to celebrate Australia as a nation. You will decide how big the park is and what will be included in it. You have an unlimited budget.

Principles of working in a direct democracy:

- The whole group is responsible for the park.
- Every person must be involved in every decision.
- All decisions must be made by discussion and then a vote.
- All decisions about the park must be made before you start the design.
- Any changes or new ideas must be discussed and voted on.
- All work must stop while decisions are being made.